New Chapter Established in Louisiana

Approximately 40 Louisiana members of ACCA and their guests gathered on February 10 for the organizational meeting of the Louisiana Chapter, ACCA's 31st chapter. At the meeting members elected leadership, adopted bylaws, and established various working committees. One of the first activities of the new Chapter will be to present a series of seminars on corporate counseling to be cosponsored with Tulane University Law School.

Donald Walsh, general counsel, Sun Company, and ACCA board chairman, along with Nancy Nord, ACCA executive director, and several other national ACCA directors attended the organizational meeting, giving local members an opportunity to meet with national representatives to discuss the benefits of creating and participating in local and national activities of the association.

Members elected as Chapter officers are:

President Michael L. Goldblatt, associate general counsel, Tidewater Inc.;
Vice president Kordice Douglas, attorney, Boeing Petroleum Services, Inc.;
Secretary Ted Turminello, general counsel, Pan American Life Insurance Company; and Treasurer Wilton T. (Tom) McCay, general counsel, Ingram Corporation.

Members elected as directors, in addition to the above officers, are Marshall F. Ordemann, assistant secretary, Louisiana General Services, Inc.; Thomas G. Fierke, chief counsel, Martin Marietta Corporation; Thomas R. Adkins, division attorney, Tenneco Oil Company; and Anthony George, chief counsel, Boeing Petroleum Service, Inc.

Following the meeting, Louisiana Chapter members joined national board members, chapter presidents and guests at a reception to honor the new Chapter. The reception was cosponsored by national ACCA, Martin Marietta Manned Space Systems, Popeye's Famous Fried Chicken, and CNG Producing Company.
