

Supporting In-house collaboration and community through COVID-19

Dear Member,

The Association of Corporate Counsel (ACC) has developed a number of resources to support and assist the in-house community through the current COVID-19 epidemic:

In-house Counsel Resource Page

Members are encouraged to view the dedicated in-house counsel resource page containing links to articles for in-house teams covering a range of issues relating to the COVID-19 epidemic. Note this page is being constantly updated as new developments occur.

ACC's Global membership reacts to COVID-19

We've been reaching out to our global membership to highlight different in-house legal and organisational responses to the ongoing global pandemic. Click here to read more.

Join the Conversation

ACC has launched a new online discussion page to help members share questions, thoughts and best practices on responding to COVID-19. Click here to join the community discussion.

ACC Australia members are also encouraged to meet their CPD requirements via the ACC Online Learning Library, containing over 600 free and on-demand webinars. For any questions on accessing the ACC Online Learning library, the online learning discussion page, or any aspect of your ACC Australia membership, please contact ACC Australia on 1300 558550 or ausmembership@acc.com.

On behalf of ACC we look forward to continuing to support our valued members during the ongoing COVID-19 health crisis and we look forward to resuming our normal CPD service delivery when it is safe to do so for ACC members, sponsors, supporters and staff.

Sincerely,

ACC Australia Staff
