

2019 ACC AUSTRALIA
CORPORATE LAWYER AWARD FINALISTS

Government Lawyer of the Year

Tracey Moore, Executive Leader, Legal and Risk Services, General Counsel and Board Secretary, Queensland Urban Utilities

Tracey has developed the legal function in Queensland Urban Utilities and led her team to adapt to the changing legal services market and regulatory environment, by adopting a business partnership approach, refining and providing pragmatic advice to help Queensland Urban Utilities achieve its strategic and operational objectives, all while minimising organisational risk in a highly-regulated, customer orientated service industry.

Joanne Motbey, Senior Legal Counsel, Airservices Australia

Jo Motbey demonstrates excellence at Airservices Australia and in previous Government roles by focusing on developing strategic relationships to ensure she is actively engaged early in legal issues to assist in mitigating legal risk. She manages a complex and varied caseload as the sole employment and litigation practitioner at Airservices.

Kate Squire, General Counsel, Botanic Gardens and Centennial Parklands

As sole legal counsel operating a complex legal and stakeholder environment, Kate has provided outstanding leadership and direction in strategic projects delivered by BGCP and has been instrumental in delivering beneficial outcomes and value for money for the State of New South Wales through BGCP, through strategic initiatives to revitalise BGCP assets, develop and manage BGCP lands, and shaping BGCP's legal and compliance function. This has involved a review of BGCP's policies and procedures, as well as more recently a review of BGCP's Executive Structure as a result of the changes resulting from BGCP's inclusion in the new Department of Planning, Infrastructure and Environment.
