Your Seat at the Table

ACC believes the in-house legal team must have representation at the executive and boardroom tables.

The General Counsel is a critical ally in ensuring a strong, ethical corporate structure. ACC works to raise the profile of the in-house legal department, and evolve the corporate culture to understand why the GC must have a direct reporting line to the CEO and a voice in the boardroom.

Your Future

ACC advances your profession and the role of in-house counsel through research, and providing insights and thought-leadership powered by data.
