Member Spotlight:

John C. Ungar

Corporate Counsel and Director of Planning

NewCourtland

Where do you work? What is the coolest thing about your work?

NewCourtland is a nonprofit organization in Philadelphia dedicated to building and operating affordable housing for seniors as part of our mission to advance health equity. I work with a great team of talented people who are all committed to improving the lives of underserved seniors. I love developing high quality buildings where people can live happily and with dignity.

Why did you join ACC and what is the best part about being an ACC member?

A friend of mine in the Greater Philadelphia chapter encouraged me to join several years ago. Without a doubt the best part about joining ACC has been meeting so many great people at both social events and CLEs. ACC members are very open, friendly and eager to share their knowledge.

When you aren't practicing law, what are you doing?

I love the outdoors, particularly hiking, biking or kayaking with my wife and our friends.

What is something about you that fellow ACC members might be surprised to know?

I have tried flying trapeze – once!

Can you give a quick (40-50 word snippet) about how ACC has benefitted you personally or professionally?

I am the only in-house attorney in my company so having access to so many educational resources (whether they are online or in person) and meeting so many new colleagues has significantly enhanced my ability to bring value to my organization. On a personal level I have made a lot of friends in ACC.
