

ACC AUSTRALIA DIVERSITY & INCLUSION CHARTER TERMS & CONDITION

1. You have the authority to provide your company's logo for inclusion on the ACC Australia website.
2. By signing up to the Charter you acknowledge you have committed to taking reasonable steps to promote and adopt diversity and inclusion practices in-line with the Charter. Should you or your organisation undertake practices that, in the reasonable opinion of the ACC Australia board, operate in conflict of the Charter, the ACC Australia board reserves the right to revoke your right to be recognised as a signatory to the Charter.
3. Unless otherwise indicated, ACC Australia owns the copyright and all other intellectual property rights in all text, graphics, information, designs, data and other content forming part of the Charter. Signatories to the Charter may not alter or modify the Charter.
4. To the extent permitted by law, ACC Australia makes no warranty about the accuracy, completeness, security (including the presence of viruses, malicious code or other harmful components), reliability or appropriateness of the Charter. The Charter is intended to be a guide only and you are responsible for the consequences of your use of the Charter, including any decision to act or not act on the basis of the Charter. The Charter does not take into consideration of the particular circumstances of you, your organisation or any third party.
5. The Charter may contain links to third party websites which ACC Australia has no control. These Terms and Conditions do not apply to third party websites and you should review the terms and conditions of the applicable website before using that website. ACC Australia makes no representation or warranty and is not responsible for the accuracy or any other aspect of the information on any third party website referred to in the Charter. References to third party websites does not imply ACC Australia's endorsement, recommendation or support of the applicable website or any information, opinions, goods or services referred to on it. You acknowledge and agree that any access to and use of third party websites referred to in the Charter is at your own risk and ACC Australia is not responsible for any losses suffered by you or anyone else in connection with any third party website.
6. ACC Australia reserves the right to amend these Terms and Conditions at any time and will notify you accordingly. Signatories agree to be bound by any future changes to these Terms and Conditions.
7. Further information on ACC Australia's general terms and conditions can be found here.
8. You agree for ACC Australia to collect and store personal information provided by you when signing up to the Charter in accordance with ACC Australia's Privacy Policy.
9. ACC Australia may contact you using the details provided in the application form. Information or notices issued by ACC Australia to signatories will be sent to the email address provided when signing up.
10. You may contact ACC Australia about the Charter, or to request to access, correct or update any personal or company information ACC Australia holds about you by sending any email to ausmembership@acc.com.
11. These Terms and Conditions are governed by the laws of Victoria, Australia and you irrevocably and unconditionally submit to the non-exclusive jurisdiction of the courts of Victoria, Australia.