Following the invasion of Ukraine by Russia, the UK, EU and US have all responded by announcing significant sanctions in respect of Russia. We have also seen expanded sanctions in respect of Belarus.

The sanctions landscape has been changing at a fast pace and further changes are expected.

This briefing summarises the key developments from 1 July 2022, and supplements our previous briefings on:

The intention for further restrictions is being communicated by the EU, UK and US on almost a daily basis and it is important to keep up to date with the legal position as and when restrictions are set out in law.

Should you require any further information in respect of any or all of the new sanctions, please get in touch with your usual Eversheds Sutherland contact, or anyone listed in the briefing.
